NEW YORK, N.Y.

Local No. 1

With the trend of thought today, our problem is trying to convince the youngster. As we all know, we are only here for a little while.

Let us try and show them that they are reaping the benefits for which we fought. We do not need or wish animosity or any type of aggression in this country.

If it comes to taking a stand or position, you can be sure we oldsters will hold the line. So let us all be smart and recognize the Red-White-and Blue, before we become Black and Blue.

I have asked for a little cooperation in setting up our monthly write-up. There must be something that a lot of you brothers know that would really interest us all. Let it be our trade, sports, or any other field. Try to keep us informed. We are always open to suggestions or to criticism.

Our rooms have moved to our new offices on East 58th street. We all wish our President George Koch and the rest of our officers great success in the new site.

Our summer has passed very quickly. I guess, as we grow older, time flies. The weather in New York has been very good for which we all are thankful.

On a new vane of thought, I am not or are any of the Officers in our local happy to announce the retirement of one man on our Examining Board, Angelo Andy Bozzone. This man, being the senior board member, has gone out of his way to help the other officers and all concerned.

I can thank Andy for all the help he has given me. He always found time to advise me and set me straight, in my endeavors.

The entire membership and I wish you and your family the happiest years ahead. By the time our next issue goes to press, I hope to have more on this great guy.

I have just returned from an early fall vacation at Durham, N.Y. My wife and I really enjoyed ourselves settling back and letting the kids run the show back home. I will now have to contact our rooms to see what choice bits of information they have for my column.

I have just picked up one important bit of information. Our day Secretary Tom Walsh Jr. has entered his third professional career. He and his lovely wife, Bea, have turned professional in the dancing field. Tom's other talents has been a referee in the N.Y. State have been in the boxing field and he has been a referee in the N.Y. State Athletic Commission for the last 20 years.

Tom is dancing at the Chateau Pelham on Westchester Ave, in the Bronx, on each and every Friday night from August 7th through to the 28th, Bea and Tom Walsh made their professional debut as a ballroom dance team, as the "Dancing Walshes, and were the first act of three acts shown every Friday night at the Chateau Pelham.
